

PRESS KIT / SEPTEMBER 2026

For the dogs we call family.

Comfort for dogs. Convenience for their people.

Brandon Kennington, founder of Porch Potty, with his dog.

A patch of grass. A better everyday routine.

A familiar place, close to home.

Porch Potty gives dogs a comfortable grass potty space at home and helps their people build a more convenient daily routine. The idea is simple: less hassle around potty breaks and more happy moments together.

From one dog owner to many.

Founder Brandon Kennington wanted a patch of grass on his balcony after repeated trips down three flights of stairs with his puppy. Fifty-three prototypes helped turn that idea into Porch Potty.

The design has continued to evolve around the spaces people share with their dogs, from the original idea to the CLASSIC range and the latest CORE design.

Dog owners. Here for other dog owners.

A comfortable place to go. An easier routine. More time to enjoy life together.

One idea. Always moving forward.

CLASSIC

A familiar favorite

The established grass potty design, with a range of models for different dogs, homes, and daily routines.

CORE

Our latest design

An improved tray and weather-resistant wraps in three colors help CORE feel at home in your space. A high-flow drainage hose and extra-large catch basin are both included for more setup flexibility.

Working on a story?

For interviews, high-resolution images and current product details:
porchpotty.com/pages/contact